WASHINGTON STATE LAW

RCW 49.60 The right to be free from discrimination because of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, honorably discharged veteran or military status, sexual orientation, gender identity or the presence of any disability. This right shall include, but not be limited to the following;

- (a) The right to obtain and hold employment;
- (b) The right to the full enjoyment of any of the accommodations, advantages, facilities, or privileges of any place of public resort, accommodation, assemblage, or amusement;
- (c) The right to engage in real estate and (d) credit transactions and (e) insurance transactions or transactions with health maintenance organizations;
- (f) The right to engage in commerce free from any discriminatory boycotts or blacklists.

SHB 1444 - A safe and civil environment in school is necessary for students to learn and achieve high academic standards. The legislature finds that harassment, intimidation, or bullying, like their disruptive or violent behavior, disrupts both a student's ability to learn and a school's ability to educate its students in a safe environment. Each school district shall adopt or amend if necessary a policy that prohibits the harassment, intimidation, or bullying of any student, school employee, or volunteer. It is the responsibility of each school district to share this policy with parents or guardians, students, volunteers, and school employees.

The Washington State Human Rights Commission enforces the Law Against Discrimination. The Commission works to prevent and eliminate discrimination by investigating civil rights complaints and providing education and training opportunities throughout the state.
